I really enjoyed the readings that we had for this course—they really helped me become more open to understanding different religious faiths.

posting powerpoints online

I like the presentations because they helped me understand more about the books

The lectures Professor hathaway have greatly expanded my knowledge of religious studies. It was thoroughly engaging and interesting and the texts provided for the class were interesting, fun to read, and integral in furthering my understanding of religion

10. What, if anything, could the instructor do to improve this course?

n/a

explain things more clearly

Nothing, I believe that this course went perfectly.

Better explain things and spend more time on things seemed rushed

N/A

stick to the clander on the syllabus or update it when you plan on changing dates things are due. it was very confusing

No

This course was like no other 101 class I have taken. I believe that this class is very demanding for only a 101 class.

I believe that the composition of the quizzes could be a little bit better. The wording of the questions leads to a deal of ambiguity regarding answering them. Besides question wording in quizzes and tests I have no other complaints or grievances.

I'm not sure there is anything to improve this course.

No improvements needed.

This instructor is way to wise to teach. There is so much he wants to share and tell us but is not good at then reiterating that information to us. You can tell that this course is to low of a level for him to teach. He needs to teach a higher level where he maybe be more clearly understood then in the basic level class where people have no idea what he is saying. This honestly may just be because I have taken many religion classes in the past at Winthrop and else where.

Maybe just a little more in depth explanation of the assignments. A few assignments and writing prompts seemed a little vague and I felt as if I were just winging it and hoping I completed the assignments correctly.

More organized lectures as far as delivering the material and videos
